OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Increase of Seventy per cent. on Shook Boxes—The First of a Series of Blows by U. S.

How to Abolish Poverty—Representation by Population—Ontario and Dom. Premiers.

From our own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—The announcement that the valuation of box shooks, manufactured here principally by E. B. Eddy & Co., and Barnes & Co., and exported to the United States, is to be increased seventy per cent. with the prospect of a still further increase threatens to suspend all operations in the industry and drive the business to the United States. In the meantime there are factories of a similar kind at Rouses Point, Oswego, and other places across the boundary line. These factories find it cheaper to pay for importing Canadian lumber than bringing in the manufactured article. The Canadians, notwithstanding this advantage to contend with, were able to under sell them in their own market. It must be borne in mind that the market for box shooks is in the United States. This is a good argument in favor of unrestricted reciprocity and comes forcibly home to the people at the capital in this instance. If Canadian products were admitted free into the United States—as they would be under reciprocity—our lumber would be manufactured into shooks on the Ottawa and its tributaries, where there is an unlimited supply of lumber and the best water power in the world. So the result, under this increased valuation, brought about by Michigan lumber, has been that an important industry, so far only in its infancy in this country, and with splendid prospects of its rapidly increasing, will be shut down after much capital being invested in it and many workmen deprived of labor. If the closing of such an industry, the owners of whom were able to cope with Americans in their own market, although placed at a disadvantage with the tariff, does not aid in bringing about better trade relations with the United States then nothing will. That is a question on which both capital and labor can agree upon, and when a vote is taken on the matter it will be found that the combinesters and monopolists, with the influence they bear, are the only true supporters of high protection which does not protect. In this dispute between the lumbermen of the United States and the Canadian lumbermen—for it is really a dispute between them, and the former pressing upon the United States Government all obstacles against the Canadians—the Canadian Government are by no means Scot free. Had our Government not been foolish enough to put on increased duty on export logs the trouble would never ha wakened. United States lumbermen soon discovered that Canadians imported from them a much larger number of logs, yet no duty was imposed, and consequently they have ever since striven to get even with our lumber in some other way, since the United States Government do not believe in the imposition of duty on the exported article. An increased duty on our lumber is threatened by the United States, and in the meantime a monopoly of the manufacture of shook boxes has been secured by that country against Canadians.

HOW TO ABOLISH POVERTY.

Dr. McGlynn, who brought down the ire of the Bishop of New York on him for adopting the Henry George theory, and who was excommunicated by the Pope for refusing to go to Rome, after being called thither, lectured in the Grand Opera House here last Thursday evening on "How to abolish poverty." The audience was large, enthusiastic and influential, notwithstanding that his excommunication has brought against many Catholics, and that they form a very large element in the population of Ottawa. He is a gentleman of great intellectual ability and great determination. After dealing in an able and lucid manner with the subject in a general way. He said constantly increasing poverty came not from the undisturbed possession of land by those who would use it to the highest advantage and utility, but from the absolute ownership of this natural bounty by people who maintain idle and unimproved vast tracts of land, so that men were crowded out and compelled to pay monopoly prices to the privileged and constantly decreasing property owners. What was the remedy for this? Restore to the people what belonged to them—the common bounties of nature. The growth of population and civilization enhanced the value of land. In New York city they would find land worth five million dollars an acre, and there were people who were willing to take it at that price. This inspired men with cupidity to obtain land because of the enormous price it would fetch. Thus the land was made artificially scarce, and men were crowded out on a vast continent where there would be room for the population of the world. The remedy for it was to fix which would go into the public treasury. At present we gave a premium to men who held lands without improving them, and condemned those who did improve lands. By what was called the single tax, people who held lands would be compelled to part with them or use them to the highest utility indicated by the rent. This would abolish altogether the speculating in land. Under the present system we actually rewarded men for speculating in land. To cut of existence the curmudgeon who would not use the land himself, or allow any one else to use it except at a prohibitory price. By doing this they had made the most important step toward the abolition of poverty.

A TAX ON THE RENTAL VALUE

REPRESENTATION BY POPULATION.

When speaking at the Conservative banquet in Montreal to Hon. Mr. Taillon Sir John Macdonald said he opposed representation by population as it would have been the means of wiping out the French language and depriving French [illegible] while Reformers advocated it for no other reason. Hon. Wm. McDougall has not let the Premier pass unnoticed, and has written the press a letter refuting the charges made by Sir John in his after-dinner speech. Mr. McDougall, however, is charitable enough to say that Sir John Macdonald has forgotten the history of the time of which he spoke, rather than deliberately misstating the facts. The peculiarity of the whole question is that while Sir John makes these charges against the Liberal leaders prior to confederation, he as well as Sir Hector Langevin, Sir George Cartier and other Tory leaders formed a coalition with Hon. George Brown and other Liberals for the purpose of carrying out that principle. As to Sir John's allegation that he was "the father of confederation" Mr. McDougall shows that he opposed it as long as opposition was of avail, and only abandoned his opposition to escape being turned out of office. While it is necessary to remind the Premier of these little facts, now matters of history, it ought also to be remembered that Sir John was merely speaking for a little political effect, trying to win over a few voters who became estranged from him in the Riel question, and who now were coquetting with him over the Jesuit Estate Bill.

LACROSSE SEASON.

The first of the series of matches in the Lacrosse League came off here on Saturday between Ottawas and Montreals, the former team winning by five games to one. The teams belonging to the League are: Toronto, Cornwall, Ottawa, Montreal and Shamrocks. Four games will be played in Toronto, four in Cornwall, four in Ottawa and eight in Montreal, in which town there are two teams. A brilliant season of Canada's national game is looked forward to. On the Metropolitan Athletic grounds on Saturday there were over 3,000 present.

JESUIT ESTATES QUESTION.

While the Jesuits Estate question is not tearing the Province of British Columbia asunder, the people of Ontario are still agitating themselves over the matter. Many, however, are showing that they are not in earnest over the matter, by their being more eager to fasten the responsibility of Jesuit encroachment in the provinces on Oliver Mowat instead of Sir John Macdonald and the Dominion Parliament, who alone can be held responsible for the Jesuit Estates Bill and Act of Incorporation. Mowat is certain to be the first sufferer as he will certainly have to seek the confidence of the people next summer if not this fall, as many suppose. The great Liberal demonstration which takes place in Toronto shortly gives color to the rumor that the Ontario Premier has a surprise party in store for the people. Time can only strengthen the cry against him as to the teachings in the French schools of the counties of Russell and Prescott, which a commission is now investigating, and to retain power he could do nothing better than appeal to the Province after the harvest has been housed. Dalton McCarthy pitted against him will be no stronger than W. R. Meredith, and, with a party so weakly constituted as their following it would be strange if they could win, no matter what their battle cry may be—even a religious one cry it is sure to be. In my own opinion Hon Oliver Mowat and Sir John Macdonald will retain power as long as they are able to stay at the head of their parties.

POLITICAL CIRCLES.

It has been an exceedingly quiet week in political circles, not one event happening which is worthy of recording, if I omit the Premier being decorated with LL. D. by the Toronto University.

STARTOWN.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

William Nicholls was charged with assaulting Henry D. Sullivan. The complainant and defendant are both hackmen. On Friday last they had a few words on Government street, and the defendant wished to assault the complainant.

His Honor decided to dismiss the case and the Superintendent of Police said he would issue another summons under the by-law regarding obscene and insulting language.

John Young, on remand, charged with enticing seamen to desert, was represented by Mr. Walls. The counsel said His Honor stated on Saturday that the man might be a Fenian. The defendant is not a Fenian, but belongs to an organization directly opposed to Feninnism; he is an Orangeman, and evidence would be produced to show that he belonged to that order.

W. Parker, barkeeper of the Vancouver House, related the conversation between defendant and the marines.

To Supt. Sheppard—Did not tell the marines that it was a good time for the bluejackets to go to Seattle.

Dr. Morrison said he knew the defendant in the east for years, and knew him here for the past three or four years. He is an honest, upright, strict Christian and a member of the Methodist church.

Mr. Walls—Is he a Fenian?

Witness—He is an Orangeman.

Mr. Walls—Are you an Orangeman?

Witness—I am. It is part of our constitution to carry out everything in favor of upholding the army and navy.

To His Honor—I am a registered medical practitioner.

W. W. Evans said he knew defendant for the past eight years; he was upright in his dealings; knew him in Seattle.

W. O. Kellogg said he knew defendant for the past twelve years; his character was always good in Seattle.

John Braden said he knew defendant for the past four years; he was a steady man.

His honor decided to adjourn the case until four o'clock to procure a witness belonging to C Battery, who was present when the defendant was speaking to the marines.

An Indian, charged by officer Langley with being in possession of an intoxicant, was sentenced to imprisonment for two months.

A. Ross, summoned by Officer Hughes for leaving his horses on the streets contrary to the Hack By-law. F and $5.

Joe Howard and Frank Ireland were charged with stealing a trunk valued at $60, the property of W. Johnstone. Remanded until to-morrow.

W. Vernon, on remand, charged with cutting and wounding S. Wilson. Remanded until the 24th.

Four seamen belonging to the steamer Islander, issued summonses against the C. P. N. Co. for wages. H D. Helmcken appeared for the defense; Thornton Fell appeared for the complainants. A remand until to-morrow was asked for and granted.

THE VICTORIA PULPIT.

A Disturbing Sermon by the Rev. J. E. Starr, Methodist Church.

The Sins of the City—What Other Clergymen Spoke About.

PANDORA ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

The Rev. J. E. Starr in this church in the evening, preached an earnest, spirited and powerful sermon on the sins of the city, and the apathy of the public in relation thereto. The very appropriate text chosen was "And Gallio cared for none of these things." "Gallio still lives," said the reverend gentleman. He is the type of social indifferentists. The attitude assumed is the attitude assumed in our day and in our city by the majority of the law abiding citizens of the city. The first evil that I will notice is that of Sabbath desecration. You will admit that an ill-kept Sabbath is an evil, or be arrayed against the greatest men of the age. The principle now recognized is that as religion is necessary to the preservation of the state, so the Sabbath is necessary to the preservation of religion. Canada, I am proud to say, leads the world, as a Sabbath-keeping country. Victoria, though, must be put down as an exception. In our city is a class of people who regard the Sabbath as a kind of barbed-wire fence thrown across the rest of the week as a barrier to their business or pleasure. Their ignorance is remarkable. Owing to the determination of the people, the most beautiful city on the Pacific coast as to natural endowments, has been lifted to the reputation of having the worst kept Sabbath in Canada. Many easterners have been known to refuse to come on account of this reputation. The representatives of the people at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen advised the park committee to refuse the application to hold a temperance meeting at the park, and gave expression to the opinion that no religious meetings should ever be allowed there. They allow infamy and indecency to flaunt themselves in the face of respectable people, and allow the so-called sacred concert by the band to be held every Sabbath, taking the young people from their homes or the Sabbath school to the Colonist Hotel. These are the Aldermen! Their consistency is beautiful. They ought to fall through a knot-hole and drew the knot-hole in after them. Mayor Grant, though he did permit the temperance meeting to be held at the hill—I don't see how he came to do it, but he did—he would not do it again. Though a Scotchman, and I like Mayor Grant, he has evidently back slidden. If the Mayor would leave out the word "amusement" I would agree with him. I stand here to say that Beacon Hill should be used as a place for recreation, for rest, for meditation. Stop all meetings at the park on Sabbath. I charge the aldermen nothing for this. But if you stop these, stop baseball and band playing, furious driving and bad characters flaunting themselves in the face of respectable society. If temperance meetings are so offensive to non-Christians that they must be stopped, so the others must be stopped, and a tremendous step would be taken in the city towards abating the evil of Sabbath desecration.

Besides this, there is the social evil. The Grand Jury to my astonishment, placed on record their disapproval of the way in which indecent women make themselves prominent in the city. The Police Magistrate, Mr. Richards, condemed this evil in strong, unmistakable language. Honor to him! Who else has done it? Have the board of aldermen, the people or the churches? Defying all decency these women are allowed to parade before the public, to intrude themselves at the park and public assemblages, and yet the people are utterly indifferent. How is it? Do not the people know that this evil is a standing source of temptation? That instead of being the result of licentiousness, it is the cause of it. Besides, young men, upon whom the clutch of this evil has a firm hold, must have money or its equivalent for it. Some of them have small salaries. Not having the means they resort to gambling and petty stealing. This evil is a constant menace to the home, to the store, to the bank and to the office. How is that evil maintained? I stand here to say that it is maintained not by the working people chiefly, or the particularly vicious but by the young men chiefly of so called respectable people, and married men. Shame on them! These men are allowed into the respectable drawing rooms of this city. I make to lift the curtains and expose this hidden Sodom. If there is a young man here to-night, who has forgotten the memory of a pure mother's love and the oath he took when he led the pure innocent bride to the altar, I beseech you, my brother, go back. That way is the way to hell. Besides these evils, there is that of the liquor traffic. Bad anywhere, but in this city it has full swing, open every day in the week, and every hour of the day. You can't find me in another city in the American continent, to my knowledge, where such a state of things exist.

I think it is rich! The authorities refused to grant a license to a Chinaman, and though they have granted many licenses to our own people, they would defer the consideration of an application for a license in the Chinese quarter, because it may be disastrous to the Indians and Chinese. I submit if whiskey is bad for these, it is bad for people of our own flesh and blood. Oh! the cant of those people who consider themselves so worthy representatives of the people of this city. If a man came to you and said "I'll give you $250 or $300 for the privilege of making a drunkard of your boy," you would knock him down, but for the paltry sum received from licenses, many a father's boy have been made drunkards. One of the judges, my friend (!) Matthew Begbie, I believe it was, admitted that a large proportion of the criminal class that went before him are not foreigners, but sons of citizens of this city! Is it [illegible] of our brothers that for the saloon there are ten drunkards; as many saloons as many broken hearts? After relating a thrilling incident, clearly showing the folly of indifference, the preacher closed with the words "It is my business that these evils should be suppressed."

GORGE ROAD METHODIST.

In this church the Rev. W. W. Baer, the gifted young clergyman who has been appointed by the conference to minister to the congregation, preached morning and evening. The sermon last evening was from the text found in Philippians 21, 12: "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling." In introducing the subject the speaker said that the text with its contents simplifies the plan of salvation. Paul represents the Divine part of that work as consisting in "working in us to will and to do", and the human part as "working out" these holy emotions and desires. After this introduction, the sermon proceeded to show that work is necessary in a spiritual sense for the sustaining of spiritual life. It was shown that the same laws (only in a higher and sublimer sense) control the spiritual life as control the physical life. An analysis of the human nature was entered into and the causes which result in happiness, physical, mental and spiritual were explained. In each of these cases it was shown that work resulting in expansion, development and growth, thus keeping march with the order of nature and filling the design of creation, brings upon the workman the favor of the Divine Being. Happiness has been defined as being "in harmony with one's surroundings." But the speaker contended that the definition, unless qualified, is not in harmony with the facts. He had often, and so had his hearers, often been in circumstances and compelled to move in associations where their happiness consisted in a consciousness of the fact that they were utterly out of harmony with their surroundings. He then illustrated happiness and showed how it is the placing before us of some God commended goal and realizing that by our efforts we are gradually yet surely attaining to that object. Moreover, said he, this text recommends an individual work, your own salvation. By a happy picture he illustrated that in working out our individual salvation we are [illegible] ciously but surely [illegible] best sense to the salvation of our fellow men.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

Mr. John Calvert spoke at the Gospel services last evening on the story of Lot's escape from Sodom and drawing the lesson that it teaches to all who are not saved. In the first place God commanded Lot to escape, for he was in danger. So with those who have not accepted God. They are in the greatest possible danger and to them comes the warning voice to "escape for their lives." For Lot was outlined the way of escape, so again to-day. Lot objected to God's way and came near losing his life, and was finally glad to accept the way prepared for him. So many men to-day wish to be saved their own way, but it can never be.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

Last evening Rev. Mr. Rugg, Baptist church, delivered the first of a course of sermons on everyday religion, subject, Amusements. Text, I Cor. 10-13 "Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." This is one of the great questions of the day, and though we may seek to ignore it, it forces itself upon our consideration. Neither is it wise to ignore it. Our natures demand some relaxation from the worry and cares of business. We are made to smile as well as frown. Holiday keeping is a benefit to a nation. It is a duty to take care of those bodies God has given us. But we must guard against devoting too much time to amusements and see to it that such are honest and helpful. People ask, do I think this or that is wrong? That is not the right way to look at it. The question is, will it do any good? The Bible teaches grand principles on which to build up our lives. There are certain things to which we can say at once, it is wrong. Can we glorify God in them? Some games, harmless in themselves, are regarded all over the land as means of gambling. Keep as far from danger as possible. What may not harm one would ruin another. Some say ministers often quote from Shakespeare, and what is the harm in seeing one of his plays? I could give many reasons why I would not attend any such. The drama ought to be used as a means of educating the people. Well, that has been frequently tried and has proved a failure, because after everything objectionable has been removed from a play it is generally found to be too tame and uninteresting for the majority of play-goers.

As to dancing: If it was the old-fashioned dance of days gone by it would be different, but if we begin with these things we have no stopping place and against ball-room and assembly I will say there are familiarities practiced there that should not be permitted except between the dearest and best friends. Select those amusements that are not tainted with evil. With regard to the refusal to allow temperance meetings in the Park, Mr. Rugg spoke in very strong terms. He said he never saw a more glaring outrage on morality, or more deliberate insult to Christians than this action of the Chief Magistrate in refusing to permit Gospel Temperance preaching in a public park on Sabbath, whilst horse-racing, baseball and other games are allowed to go on. Such conduct is a disgrace to the age, and a stop should be put to it at once. Christian people should stand shoulder to shoulder in this matter and demand the protection of their rights. In determining the right or wrong of any amusement, let us take the word of God for our guidance. Let us ask, do I need it for recreation? is it for God's glory? and remember that for all these things we shall be held to account. We are writing up a record that will some day condemn or justify us.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The pulpit was occupied in the morning by Rev. Donald Fraser, who preached an excellent sermon from Luke 14-23, "Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in." The preacher dwelt upon the invitation and the anxiety of the Lord that it should be accepted, and exhorted his hearers to accept and be saved and enjoy life here and hereafter.

In this church at both morning and evening services a collection was taken up for the Seattle sufferers, and a handsome sum realized.

FIRE AT SAVONAS.

Pendola's Brewery Burned Down This Afternoon. Loss $10,000.

"Hailstones as thick as hand-grenades flew
And where they fell as certainly slew."

So it was said of one of those ignorant doctors in the early times, who might well have been called the side-de-camp of Death. The sufferer from scrofula, with sores as bad as Job's, need not now curse the day he was born. For Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will restore health and beauty, appetite and strength. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing salt rheum, tetters, boils, carbuncles, sore eyes, scrofulous sores and swellings, hip joint diseases, white swellings, goitre or thick neck, or enlarged glands. w.s.

Ottawa, June 17.—The Dominion Government has instructed commanders of government cruisers not to overlook any infraction of the fishery regulations, but to seize any vessel guilty of violating the law where evidence will warrant such steps.

ANOTHER BIG FIRE.

Montreal, June 17.—Fifteen acres of flames are raging at Mile End a suburb of Montreal. There is no water near the scene. The inhabitants of the village, workmen at the place and firemen of this city are giving up the hopeless task of checking the flames by ordinary means and have been provided with shovels and picks, and have thrown up earthworks across the path of the fire. The fire started in the Bushnell Iron Works controlled by the Standard Oil Co. The works have a fire department of their own. They attempted to cope with the flames without assistance from the Montreal department, but before anybody realized the extent of the blaze it had extended to one of the reservoirs of the company which blew up and spread the blazing oil in all direction for a radius of two hundred yards.

Montreal, June 17.—Last night's fire at Mile End, destroyed the Bushnell oil refinery, ten freight cars and other property. Loss will be over a quarter million dollars.

VALKYRIE WINS.

London, June 17.—In the Cork Yacht Club regatta, to-day, Dunraven's yacht, Valkyrie, won easily, Yarana second, Deerhound third.

FAILED TO HOLD.

New York, June 17.—The Chicago men sent here to identify Maroney and McDonald by their photos as the men concerned in sending the cartoon of the cottage where Cronin was murdered, visited the Tombs this morning. They failed to recognize either of the men. Later Judge Andrews in the Superior Court rendered a decision discharging the two men from custody, on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient to connect either of them with the Cronin murder.

WANTED FOR MURDER.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Last night the Chief of Police arrested Martin Burke, alias Delaney, wanted for complicity in the Cronin murder.

Chief Hubbard of Chicago says of Burke's arrest, "It is very important and will be followed by another in this city."

CRONIN MURDER CASE.

Chicago, June 17.—The Grand Jury resumed proceedings in the Cronin case this morning. The first witness examined was Jas. P. Quinn, a hat dealer, who witnessed a fight between detective Coughlan and P. O'Sullivan and a man named Roche, and who also overheard Coughlan say that a prominent Catholic would soon not hold his head so high.

STANLEY TO LECTURE.

London, June 17.—Stanley's agent is here arranging for a lecture tour for Stanley for October. His return here before autumn is regarded as a certainty.

ANOTHER CALAMITY.

Kansas City, June 17.—A terrible calamity has fallen upon Uniontown and Belletown in Kansas and the country around them. A violent wind and rainstorm passed over that section and an unprecedented fall of rain causing a dam above Uniontown to break and the whole village was swept away. Two women and four children are known to have been drowned and it is feared the loss of life is heavier.

JOHNSTOWN'S DEAD.

Johnstown, June 17—Six bodies were found Sunday morning which could not be identified. A lot of drift near the bridge was burned away this morning.

Col. Rogers, chief of the Bureau of Information, to whom was referred the work of identifying the dead, has completed and submitted his report to General Hastings. He says on the face of the returns that 4125 persons appear to have been lost, but making due allowance for the proneness to exaggeration in estimating the crowds and the population he believes the total number lost will not exceed 3000. The work of rebuilding is pushed rapidly.

RAILWAY MEETING.

Portland, Or., June 17—Up to 2:30 this afternoon nothing definite had been elicited from the meeting of the Oregon & Transcontinental here to-day. There are several rumors afloat of a compromise based upon an alleged agreement between the Northern Pacific Railway and the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company that each of these companies will let the Huntington system severely alone.

Martinsburg, Va., June 17.—There was a heavy storm in the southern part of Berkeley county last evening, accompanied by a terrific gale of wind, causing great damage. The windstorm was followed by a terrible thunderstorm and this was succeeded by a destructive hailstorm. Hailstones in some places were three to four inches deep. Crops and trees were ruined. Live stock was badly bruised and in some instances killed. Houses and barns were wrecked by the wind, but no loss of live is reported.

SMUGGLER ARRESTED.

New York, June 17.—James Boyd, of the steamer Colon, of the Pacific Mail Line, that arrived from Aspinwall on Saturday, was arrested and held to-day on a charge of smuggling $300 worth of opium. Ten packages were found on the person and led more to his trunk.

REV. STARR AND REFORM.

The Rev. Mr. STARR preached last night a characteristic sermon of a strongly local flavor, and so true that undoubtedly very many honest people will regard themselves extremely scandalized. His text was: "And GALLIO cared for none of those things," to which the speaker appositely remarked that the people of Victoria in relation to Sabbath breaking, the social evil and liquor licenses cared as little as GALLIO for the bickerings of the Jews. Such sermons as these have a penetrative quality. They reach the moral vitality of people. They are vivid illustrations of practical religion and practical morality, two features which are worth preaching in this very practical age. We might go to work and draw a dismal augury of the necessity of such sermons. If in a city like Victoria, a city which supports a greater number of churches, and more eloquent and learned ministers than any other city of its size on the coast, it is necessary to preach such sermons might we not conclude that religion had outgrown its usefulness. This, however, we do not believe, any more than we believe that the laws which governed the administration of GALLIO had lost their virtue. Indifference is the effect of a cause and that cause we should judge to be a feeling akin to cynicism, and the conviction that mere law fails to reform. GALLIO was a cynic, and he said let them break each other's heads. Our aldermen, with their legs under the municipal mahogany, are not a very cynical looking conclave. They are not of the stamp of men who with a lighted lantern in hand would promenade Government street in broad daylight in search of honest men. The fact, however, that intoxicated men may blackguard each other in the theatres, and that in certain houses on Douglas street there are sounds of revelry by night which would not be tolerated on such a street in any other city on this coast is a reflection on either the aldermen or the police, and whether it be the effect of cynicism or indifference that they care for none of those things we shall not decide. It seems to us, however, that the true solution of the abuses which are being complained of may be corrected by giving the police greater discretion. Theatre managers, while they would like to see ruffians ejected who are noisy, dislike to go to the trouble of swearing out a complaint. If the police are not competent to eject a noisy loafer from a theatre at discretion, or to quiet unseemly noises originating in licentious orgies on our principal streets, the law should be amended to give them the discretion. In regard to Sabbath desecration at Beacon Hill, it should not be tolerated. Beacon Hill should be a Sabbath day resort where the most fastidious believers in that day may while away an hour or so without having their susceptibilities outraged. No speeches, religious or irreligious, temperance or anti-temperance, no speeches of any kind whatsoever, should be permitted in Beacon Hill park on the Sabbath day, and it is needless to say that the playing of any games also should be prohibited. As for the band we see no reason why it should not be tolerated, and even welcomed, on the Sabbath. This is a feature which the world can listen to and be none the worse for it. Men far more conservative than the Rev. Mr. STARR have criticized adversely the prominence of the social evil in this city, and the comparative immunity granted intoxicated rowdies in places of public amusement and Sabbath desecration at the park. Efforts tended in this direction, and we urge that it should be made immediate.

LABOR COMMISSIONS.

It is pretty well understood, says the Montreal Herald, that the Dominion Labor Commission, which perambulated through the country last year at an expense to the tax payers of nearly $40,000, "was simply intended as sop to the working men of Canada." The Herald admits that those members of the commission who were actual workingmen meant business on behalf of their class, but the other commissioners, the representatives of workingmen by profession," did not. They expected a good time, a "snap," at the expense of the people, and they got it. The proof that the commission was bogus, that a portion of the members, at least, sought to relieve the chronic itching of their palms lies in the fact that the members are publishing in the press recriminating letters about each other, and ventilating facts which had better have been left in the obscurity of their inner consciences. One commissioner accuses another of being hostile to the cause of labor, and of suppressing evidence in the interests of capital; while another of this delectable board brands some of his confreres with being loafers. It is further charged that two commissioners, who were to visit a certain locality to investigate the "truck system of wages," spent their time at fishing. One commissioner stigmatizes a colleague as a "thug," which the Herald says is probably quite true in a "political and literary sense," and on the whole, with such revelations as these before us, we may reasonably infer that however unexceptionable the private lives of the commissioners may be, as public functionaries they are first class frauds. The animus of the Herald, however, in advertising the commissioners in the character it has, is to illustrate the humbugging practices of Sir JOHN MACDONALD. Of this we care not; besides it would be superfluous for us to advert to them, for everybody knows who knows anything of Canadian politics, that Sir JOHN is the incarnation of MACHIAVEL. Nor are we disposed to inveigh against capital. Where universal suffrage prevails, capital necessarily is in the minority, and to carry its points must perforce depend largely on the venality of men to whom power has been intrusted. This, of course, is very reprehensive in capital, but it is a practice as old as government, and it is pretty sure to remain a feature of government while civilization lasts. We need not then read capital a homily with any assurance of inducing a change of its morals for the better. Capital will reply that necessity knows no law, and that if it cannot compass its ends by fair means, it must resort to foul. This answer gives workingmen the cue as to what is required of them as persons vested with a sovereign power. It is comprehended in the word—integrity. It matters not to labor how much of a humbug Sir JOHN is; it is of no concern to labor how rascally capital may be. If labor is honest these features are of no consequence in effecting reform. Numerically speaking, the working men of Canada have in a political and legislative sense a veritable picnic. Once settled on a distinctive policy and honestly determined to carry it out, there is nothing in the way to prevent its consummation. If on the other hand labor permits itself to be dazzled by the glittering generalities of paid orators and subsidized newspapers, if labor allows itself to split up over semi-religious, educational squabbles, and if it walks up to the polls with one hand behind it to receive bribes, plutocracy must prevail and labor may conclude that it alone is responsible. The cry is now going up on all sides, that the next political issue of importance is to be between capital and labor, and men gaze at each other ominously with as much as to say, we smell blood. While it is quite correct that the lines between capital and labor are becoming more sharply defined, if labor is true to itself there is no occasion for a bloody sequel to the struggle. There are always enough conservative men in opposing parties whose influence is equal to the preserving of the proper mean between order and violence, with this qualification, that high motives must be the bottom cause of the issue. Labor true to itself, conservative in its demands, and represented by honest men, must win in all points essential to its well-being. The organic laws of the country are ample to meet all of the contingencies arising from the interests of labor and capital; it is simply a question of the honest exercise of the executive function. We conclude that workingmen, instead of turning to the worship of theoretical remedies for their ills, should study the character of the polity under which they are now living, and see to it through their representatives that they receive all of the benefits within their constitutional rights.

LONGLEY ON IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Speaking of Imperial Federation and an hereditary aristocracy, J. W. LONGLEY, in The Week, thus presents some phases for Canadians to ponder over. First, he says that it is impossible for Canada to ignore her geographical position, for whatever may be the position and surroundings of other British Colonies, Canada is part of the continent of North America, and has for a neighbor a vast English-speaking community of people, which, however far we may have drifted apart in national friendship, is yet still nearly allied to us in civilization, laws, aims, institutions, and national aspirations. And further, that though the United States is in a sense a hostile nation, they exercise a daily and hourly influence over every form of our national and individual life. We feel their influence in every commercial and industrial enterprise in the country. But the special relations presents with the greatest force is that Great Britain has still an established church and an hereditary aristocracy, and would it: suit Canadian ideas or interests to accept these. "Great Britain" he says, "has still a place in European diplomacy, and has to maintain a standing army and a navy which national interests seem to demand shall be made greater and more costly every year. Is there anything in Canadian life which points to it as a wise policy that we should take a share of those burdens upon us? In North America we can get on very well without these things. Here every man is a bread-winner and a wage-earner, and contributes something to the development of the country. Would it be a mark of wisdom to seek a policy which would involve the conversion of a large percentage of the able-bodied men of the state into a band of hired loafers supported at the public expense? Are there not many considerations which induce one to believe that if Canada is ever to thrive and grow and achieve a great destiny she can do this best in the atmosphere of her own continent rather than stifled with the remains of European feudalism?" Mr. LONGLEY begs that he will not be understood as dogmatizing. A titled and hereditary aristocracy is perhaps just the thing we need. A standing army possibly is just the tonic we require, and a dash at some wars in Europe, Asia and Africa the very exercise that would build up our Constitution. But there are some amongst us who have imbibed opposite ideas, and want the matter more fully threshed out before entering on a definate policy in regard to foreign relations of any kind

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The cordial reception being extended Mr. Gladstone during his Whitsuntide campaign indicates that he still retains a very large proportion of his old-time popularity with the masses. He certainly maintains very great cheerfulness in the cold shades of opposition, and under circumstances that might well discourage even the stoutest heart. Apparently, he is as confident as ever of the triumph at an early date of the cause of Irish home rule.

Mr. Henry C. Maine, the "sun-spot man" of the Rochester Democrat, is now enjoying probably his greatest triumph over those who have seen in his theories little but subjects for ridicule. He maintains, as is now pretty generally known, that there is a direct relation between the tremendous forces which produce the spots on the sun and the varying condition of the earth's atmosphere. This theory he has been seeking to verify for some years past, and with no little success. Predictions which he has based upon it have in many instances come true, but none have been more successful than his latest one. Last month he announced that he had discovered new and growing areas of solar agitation, which were likely to cause extraordinary disturbances in our atmosphere. That the latter have taken place is evident enough, and the sun-spot theory ought now to be beyond the reach of ridicule. Mr. Maine is reaping the reward of his patience.

AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va.

EXPORTATION OF LEAD.

Mr. G. B. Wright's Views to the Senatorial Committee.

Mr. G. B. Wright sent the following letter to the Senatorial Committee on trade relations with Canada. As the subject discussed is of special importance to British Columbians, especially at the present moment when Mr. Van Horne is advocating the imposition of a duty on lead for the purpose of developing the production of that metal, we publish the letter entire:

Portland, Or., May 25, 1889.

To the Senatorial Committee upon Canadian Relations, Etc.

GENTLEMEN:—I am a citizen of the United States, but at present am engaged in working some silver mines in British Columbia, about fifty miles north of the boundary line. These mines are situated upon Kootenay lake, 150 miles north-easterly of Spokane Falls, from whence they draw the greater portion of their supplies. The natural outlet of their ore product is the Northern Pacific railway, which road they tap at Sand Point, upon the Pend d' O'Reille lake. One hundred miles of lake and river transportation, and thirty-two miles of wagon road bring our ores to the railway, by which they are shipped at present to Omaha, or Helena, or Great Falls, in Montana. We have reason to hope that the wagon road will soon be superseded by a railway.

There are two classes of ore in this district, one consisting of rich silver ores, which carry copper, iron, manganese and a small percentage of lead, with silver varying from 100 ounces to 400 ounces per ton. Shipments made by himself to Great Falls last winter yielded 120 ounces silver to the ton, 25 per cent of iron, and 3 per cent lead. Other consignments to Anaconda gave from 300 to 400 ounces silver, and 15 per cent to 30 per cent copper, with 5 per cent of lead. Of course in such ore the lead has when the percentage is so low, and no mention is made of it in the smelter returns. Under the present tariff regulations foreign lead ore is subject to a duty of $30 per ton upon its importation into the United States. It has hitherto been ruled by the successive secretaries of the treasury that the ore should be classified as either lead ore or silver or gold ore, according to the predominating value of their metal contained in it. I hear now that the lead owners of some of the Idaho and Washington mines ask that ore containing any lead, however small a percentage, shall be deemed lead ore, and subjected to this almost prohibitory duty. In other words, the accident of rich silver or gold quartz having a trace of lead in it, should suffice to exclude it from crossing our borders. Some of our veins have hematite iron in large proportions, with that unfortunate taint of lead. Graphite exists in others; manganese largely in many of them. Gold in paying quantities in many; yet these worshippers of the lead interests ask that all should be subjected to the same tax, from their being found in a lead company, lead, though only a trace. This seems to me to be a veritable 'reductio ad absurdum.'

Another class of our ores are rich in both gold and silver. Shipments to the Helena Smelting works have shown the existence of 113 ounces of silver and 65 per cent of lead, the silver being valued at about $100 per ton and the lead about $25. No ordinary duty which may be imposed upon lead can from being shipped across the line, because a large profit can be obtained from them after paying any duty. Therefore, they will enter our country in spite of legislation and add to the plethora of lead which it is claimed now exists. Where would be the benefit of subjecting this class to the $30 duty, except to increase our already overflowing treasury surplus?

It is evident therefore that this vigorous crusade can only be urged against the third class of ore, in which the values of the base and precious metals more nearly approximate each other. Under the present rulings a predominance of the silver value admits the ores free. In this class the labor in extracting these ores generally amounts to $5 or $10 per ton. This is performed in British Columbia. A small addition may be added for transportation to the boundary line. The cost of transporting them thence to the various smelters, of reducing them to base bullion, and of separating the base and precious metals varies from $25 to $40 per ton, and is all performed in the United States. This is labor or manufacturer's profit. I am a member of the Republican party and have always considered that their principles were protection for the manufacturing and laboring classes and not placing prohibitory tax upon raw materials. To do this seems practically to be a crusade against labor.

As the law now exists, and under the present rulings, that if it is properly carried out I do not believe that sufficient low grade lead ores will be admitted to influence materially the price of lead.

THE RIGID RULES

which have been adopted in estimating the values of our British Columbia lead ores, if carried out on the Mexican border, would greatly diminish the quantities which would be introduced. I think I have been connected with all the shipments which have been made from British Columbia, and can safely aver that the aggregate amount for three or more years does not exceed 500 tons. This amount has been greatly exaggerated in newspaper and other statements. I think that it is not the law or treasury rulings but the infraction of both which causes the trouble with Mexican ores.

A word about the owners of the mines in the Kootenay Lake district. They are almost invariably American citizens. Our ores are shipped into American territory, over American railways. Our supplies are mostly purchased from Spokane Falls and other American towns in Idaho and Washington. Our mining companies have invariably been incorporated in the United States, and the mining stock is owned and controlled by the citizens of Portland, Vancouver, Spokane Falls and Eastern cities. The district is practically isolated from the rest of British Columbia, and the conformation of the mountains naturally connect it with our Northern territories, by bonds which are not easily broken. Two American railways are now projected to extend to the British line. British Columbia railroad companies apparently take no interest in a region so remote from their capital. Each new and valuable discovery is at once occupied and owned by Americans. A change in the present tariff regulations would force the Canadians to construct their own railways into the mining region, and destroy a trade which is rapidly growing up with the United States, and which is adding materially in building up our Northern towns.

RELATIONS WITH CANADA.

I will touch a moment upon our relations with Canada in regard to mining matters. British Columbia has entire control of the mines within her borders, and her mining laws are patterned after those of the United States. In all respects, however, they are more liberal. American miners and capitalists are especially invited to invest in and develop their mining resources. By the payment of a simple tax of $5 annually a foreigner or a foreign company has equal rights with a British subject, of prospecting, working, buying and selling mining claims. A law embodied in their code, which authorizes American or other foreign companies, wherever incorporated, to file their articles of incorporation with the land commissioner in Victoria, and at once become invested with all the rights of the Canadian incorporations. I need not say that this is a striking contrast to our own exclusive policy in the purchase and ownership of mining properties. I believe that a feeling so pleasantly exhibited, and which bids fair to soon ripen into a wish for a closer political connection, should not be discouraged by building up a wall of demarcation between us.

THE LOW PRICE

of lead is undoubtedly the primary cause of the present onslaught upon foreign land ores. May not this depression in price be due in a great measure to the producers themselves, and to the dealers in the article? Of late years "corners" have been attempted in controlling the world's supply of various metals. It is within the recollection of all of us that quicksilver was advanced to the exorbitant price of $1 40 per pound. This was followed by such over production that the quicksilver mining interests have since languished under the low rate of 40 cents. Our copper interests are a striking instance of the effects of a collapsed French syndicate. Thousands of miners in Butte and Anaconda districts in Montana are suffering enforced idleness from the effect of the failure of the syndicate, and the natural reaction in the prices of that largely used metal. If Mr. Corwith of Chicago had not attempted to "corner" lead and thus impose a burden on the United States, by raising to an exorbitant figure a metal which enters so largely into all our present domestic manufactures, it is probable that lead would now be selling at a paying price. Would it be considered a wise transaction if the Calumet & Hecla people, or Messrs. Baggin & Hearst should ask the Secretary of the Treasury to take action which would enable them to keep the price of copper up to 17 cents, as it had recently been? Why should he treat lead differently? Let the Coeur d' Alene mine owners regulate their production, and above all, discourage undue speculation in the price of the metal which they so cheaply produce, and I believe that a profitable era for lead mine owners will follow. I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient servant, G. B. WRIGHT.

"There was a frog who lived in a spring,
He caught such a cold that he could not sing."

Poor, unfortunate Batrachian! In what a sad plight he must have been. And yet his misfortune was one that often befalls singers. Many a once tuneful voice among those who belong to the "genus homo" is utterly spoiled by "cold in the head", or on the lungs, or both combined. For the above mentioned "croaker" we are not aware that any remedy was ever devised; but we rejoice to know that all human singers may keep their heads clear and throats in tune by a timely use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, both of which are sold by druggists.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.
In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

SPORTING NEWS.

CORNELL STUDENTS HUMILIATED

The faculty of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., treated the students to a genuine surprise last week. At the last faculty meeting the professors challenged a picked nine of the fraternity students to a game of baseball. The students were in consternation. What should they do if they won the game from the professors? On the other hand, how was it possible to let them win? Finally, it was decided to beat them very mildly. The result was the most humiliating that ever a faculty gave students. Those professors, supposed to be all head and no muscle, danced and pranced all over them to the tune of 33 to 11.

SPRINTING.

Frank Lewis, the sprinter who ran the race with Rethane, recently, in Seattle, challenges Langdon, of Nanaimo, for either a 75 or 125 yards race for $1,000 a side. He further states that if his challenge is not accepted he will brand Langdon, or as he also calls him Dobine, as a fraud.

BASEBALL MATCH.

The first game played in the new grounds, on Saturday last, was most interesting and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. The James Bay nine won the game with a score of six to four and an innings to spare. During the game a bouquet of flowers was presented to one of the James Bays amidst the applause of the spectators. The next league game will take place on Saturday, June 29th, between the Mayflower and James Bay nines.

GENERAL NOTES.

Lacrosse players are requested to attend practice this evening as usual. The boys have been invited to participate in the celebration at Vancouver on Dominion Day and it is likely the invitation will be accepted.

The Correct Figures.

A corrected list of the losses by the Seattle fire places the total loss at $10,000,000, the average insurance being nearly 25 per cent. One thousand business establishments of one kind and another were burned out.

Pugilist in Trouble.

Joe Howard, the knocker-out, was arrested by Officer Livin this morning on a charge of stealing a trunk from a cabin occupied by a man named Johnston on Chatham street. Howard was leaving the city on a steamer when he was placed under arrest.

Licensing Court.

Messrs. Wilson Brown, Sinclair and Bray held a licensing court at the Lake schoolhouse of Saturday evening. John Camp was granted a license to sell liquors at the Prairie Tavern and Louis Duval received permission to sell liquors at the Royal Oak Hotel.

Seattle Relief.

Mr. Walter Walker, treasurer of the First Presbyterian Church, handed $63 to Mayor Grant to-day, being the amount received over and above the ordinary collection and on behalf of the Seattle sufferers.

A similar collection made in the Gorge Road Methodist church amounted to $47.

A Lucky Man.

Mr. I. C. Speer, the energetic manager of the Nanaimo Telephone Company, has fallen heir to the sum of $40,000 through the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Catherine, at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, on the 26th December. The deceased lady died worth about $450,000, and the share of Mr. I. C. Speer will amount to $40,000, which amount he will receive in about two months' time.—Free Press.

Mining Difficulties.

We understand the properties of the mines at Field, B. C., had a writ served upon them yesterday, at the instance of Sheriff Redgreaves, to restrain them from proceeding with any work on their claim. These men filed their claim under the Dominion laws, and subsequently Sheriff Redgreaves filed a claim under the British Columbia laws, hence the trouble. The foregoing is taken from the Calgary Tribune.

Sailing Orders.

It is understood that the fleet will leave for Vancouver to-morrow morning and will remain at the terminal city till after Dominion Day celebration. On Sunday morning the Colonist published what was purported to be the sailing orders of the fleet. It would be interesting to know where the information was obtained as it is a well understood rule in the navy that orders are not made public until immediately before sailing. Perhaps Admiral Henesge will ask for an explanation when the fertile brain of a reporter will be found responsible for the production.

Obituary.

The many friends of Mr. Isaac Somers, Cedar Hill, will hear with regret of the death of his wife, which occurred yesterday morning. The deceased, who arrived in the province about four years ago, was a native of Ireland and 39 years of age at the time of her death. For nearly a year she was a patient sufferer from that terrible malady cancer, an affliction which she bore with Christian resignation and fortitude. She leaves a husband and five little children, the eldest of whom is 13 years, to mourn her demise. The deceased was an exemplary wife and mother, and much esteemed by all who knew her.

A Fine Trip.

It is likely that the city teachers will have an opportunity of taking a trip during the holidays that for choice of route and low rates it would be hard to beat. It is intended, provided a sufficient number go, to leave Winnipeg early in July for the Pacific coast, stopping at all the principal places en route. From Victoria they will go to Seattle, and from there on the Northern Pacific to Yellowstone Park, where they will remain a few days. Besides this, they will visit Salt Lake City and make the Mormons a short visit. The trip will probably take six weeks, and it is likely a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity, as the price of transportation will not be more than $50.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Practical Joke.

On Thursday morning about daybreak Constable Barker, of Calgary, in the course of his rounds saw what he took to be a man hanging by the neck from one of the telephone poles on Atlantic avenue. He cut the supposed man down, who fell in a heap on the ground, apparently dead. On closer inspection the constable saw that it was a dummy dressed in a pair of drawers, silk stockings, white linen shirt and cow-boy hat, the whole being stuffed with old sacks and straw. Pinned on the front and back of the figure were cards having the following words written on them: "Wife-seducer, home-wrecker, scoundrel, hang him and quarter him." The police are taking steps to bring the perpetrator of the joke to justice.

Superior Lawyers Up Country.

Two cases were up for hearing in the County Court at Kamloops last week before Mr. Justice Walkem. Owing to the fact that the plaintiff had not satisfactorily answered certain interrogatories put by defendants' solicitors, the latter objected to the case being opened until they were answered. His Lordship sustained the objection, and the cases were adjourned till the 24th inst. In referring to the action of the solicitors in these cases, His Lordship characterized them as being highly creditable—the evident desire being to make as little expense as possible for their clients. He complimented Mr. Cochrane, the plaintiff's solicitor, very highly, and stated he showed a knowledge of the case and the practices relating to it far superior to many of the practitioners in the courts of Victoria.

The Government Arraigned.

A correspondent of the Kamloops Sentinel, writing from the flourishing young camp of Nelson, says: It is of course unnecessary to tell you that the Kootenay & Columbia railway scheme has turned out to be a fizzle; that the Kootenay and Athabasca railway scheme is dead; that the Crow's Nest Pass railway scheme is dead. It is unnecessary to tell you that we are not getting a wagon road built; that we have no route over British soil by which we can get out of this country except a pack trail, part of which we get at the mercy of charity, and is in a wretched condition; and that we have no post office, and have to depend upon the good nature of the steamboat men to carry our mail, which amounts to bushels in quantity, to and from Revelstoke Station. I have frequently called public attention to these facts. There is doubtless a remedy, but it does not consist of mild newspaper comment.

Train Accident.

On Sunday evening a young man named Robert Bland was struck by a freight car near Russell's station and was severely injured. He was taken to Dr. Milne's residence where his wounds were dressed. The young man was walking along the track, near a sharp curve, when a train backed up from the Store street depot. Bland did not hear the cars and was struck on the back and thrown to the ground. A portion of the back of his coat was torn off and both sleeves were completely severed from the garment. Fortunately his body fell clear of the wheels. He was stunned by the force of the blow and striking his head on the ground. His medical attendant states that his injuries are not dangerous. The young man is a son of James Bland, for many years proprietor of the Half Way House on the Esquimalt road. No blame is attached to the brakesmen on the cars. Mr. Bland is troubled with deafness and was not seen by the men until after the accident.

PRESIDENT VAN HORNE

Arrives Last Night—Improvements at Vancouver.

President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, arrived from Vancouver on Sunday evening and is registered at the Driard. Accompanying Mr. Van Horne are: Mr. Thos. Skinner, of London, England, a director of the C. P. R. and editor of the Canadian Gazette; R. A. Smith, of Montreal, late Manager of the Allan line of steamers; R. B. Langdon, Minneapolis, of the firm of Langdon & Sheppard, who constructed the prairie section of the line between Winnipeg and Calgary; and Messrs. H. Abbott and D. E. Brown, of the C. P. R., Vancouver. President Van Horne has been making his customary annual tour of inspection and observation, and is highly gratified at the result. The road, which, since the opening of the short line to New Brunswick, in reality touches the two oceans, was found to be in excellent condition, and everywhere meeting the requirements of the country. In addition to inspecting the line to the Pacific coast, President Van Horne has had a conference it is understood with the Provincial Secretary and other representatives of the local Government on matters which were still unsettled between his company and the Province, and it is believed an arrangement has been arrived at by which all differences will be adjusted.

AT VANCOUVER.

At Vancouver Mr. Van Horne met the Council of the Board of Trade, and a discussion took place on various matters of local interest. Among other things Mr. Van Horne said: "It is my opinion now, and it has always been, that the development of the steamship commerce of Vancouver in the future will be so great that the water front on Coal Harbor will not afford sufficient accommodation for the large amount of shipping, and that it will then be necessary to discharge and load the ocean steamers at wharves situated at the mouth of False Creek leaving the water front on Coal Harbor available for the local steamers. When that time will come, it is, however, impossible for me to say, but probably the gentlemen present would not be sorry, if it was found necessary by the growth of business to make the change sooner than some anticipated. I might, however, say in answer to the enquiry of one gentleman present, that the change will be made only when the present accommodation is found to be inadequate, as the cost of erecting the necessary wharves at the mouth of False Creek would be very considerable. I expect to see some day half a mile of wharves at the mouth of False Creek and one continuous wharf from Coal Harbor to Hastings."

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

In addition to the extension of the wharfage facilities, it is proposed to erect new offices for the company's officials, and a depot which will answer all the requirements of the growing traffic and be in keeping with the city. Sir Donald Smith will erect a large building and the Van Horne block will be considerably enlarged. Other shareholders in the company will invest largely in new structures, and special inducements will be offered to wholesale men, who are looking towards this Province, to locate at Vancouver.

COAL SHIPPING.

The transportation of coal from Banff to the coast promises to increase to large proportions, and it was the intention of the company to make Port Moody the point of transhipment. For this purpose the old government wharf would be extended and improved and large coal bunkers erected commensurate with the business expected to be done.

Mr. Van Horne and party will leave for Tacoma in the morning and will return east over the N. P. R. The private car on which they travelled to Vancouver has been sent back to the N. P. and will be met probably at Helena.

THE MILLENNIUM.

Synopsis of the Discourse Given at the Gospel Tent Last Night.

The word millennium, from the Latin mille, thousand, and annus, a year, means a thousand years. It is used altogether with reference to the thousand years spoken of in Rev. 20:4, 5, 7; during which all overcomers in the Christian warfare will live and reign with Christ, the captain of their salvation.

When we proclaim that the coming of Christ is at hand, and warn men that they must make haste to prepare for the close of probation and the end of all things, or it will be everlastingly too late, those who are under the influence of the doctrine of the temporal millennium respond: "Oh, no! the world is to be all converted, and we are to have a thousand years of peace and righteousness before Christ can come."

This is the doctrine of the temporal millennium, so largely indulged in by professors of the present day. It is a doctrine of comparatively recent origin, being introduced by Daniel Whitby, D. D., in the latter part of the seventeenth century. The apostle has told us (Thess. 5:3) that when the last overwhelming destruction is just about to burst upon the world, the mass of the people will be so happily dreaming of quiet and prosperity that they will be in the very act of crying peace and safety. We arraign this doctrine as the chief element of the peace-and-safety cry, the warp and woof of the great error which will more than anything else close the eyes and ears of men and women against the solemn and all important doctrine of the impending advent of the Son of God.

Math. 24-14, is one of the texts urged in defense of this doctrine. "And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." But it is not said that every individual will hear it, much less obey it. But even if it did, it would still be far from sustaining the position of your friends; for then, according to the text, the end would come; but they say, no, not till a thousand years thereafter.

The last days, which are considered by believers in the world's conversion and the temporal millennium as the most favorable for the accomplishment of that object are described by the apostle as days of special peril, in reference to which he warns the church: "This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come, etc." Even professed Christians, it is declared would be so far carried away by the prevailing evils, that it would be necessary for the true to turn away from the false. Nineteen terrible charges are made against those even who have a form of godliness; and "from such, says the apostle, "turn away." 2 Tim. 3, 1-5. How could this be, if the world was converted?

Prophecy is doctrine from first to last, still is, and will be at the end of time, a broad and easy way, but the way to life a strait and narrow way. Our Lord himself has thus declared: "Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth into life and few there be that find it." Math. 7, 13-14. These words of Our Lord will settle the matter in every honest heart. The doctrine of the temporal millennium therefore cannot be true.

The subject for to-night is, "The vision of Daniel Eight."

Fatal Buggy Accident.

On Friday evening J. Kemp, gardener for James Dunsmuir at Departure Bay, drove Mrs. Austin into town, and after leaving some things on board the steamer Isabel started on the return journey. While endeavoring to turn the corner leading from Comox road to the Bay, the buggy was upset, throwing Mr. Kemp violently to the ground and Mrs. Austin fell under the buggy. She immediately hurried to the Wellington Hotel to procure assistance, and returned with H. Bates, Purcell and others, who placed the injured man in the buggy and drove him to Dr. Eberts' residence at Wellington. Dr. Eberts tried every method to restore consciousness, but without avail, and deceased was removed to his home at Departure Bay, where he died at 11 a. m. on Saturday.

KAMLOOPS BUDGET.

A Promiscuous Batch of News from the Great Interior.

[From the Inland Sentinel.]

Mr. A. Burnett, of Crow's Bar, recently sold 43 head of three and four year old steers for $35 per head.

R. H. Lee, P. L. S., has returned from a trip to the Big Bend country, where he was surveying timber limits for an American firm.

The heat during the past week has been very intense, and in consequence vegetation on the hills has a parched appearance.

Oscar Lodersbery, of Lillooet, and A. Johnson, of Donald, go down to establish a restaurant at Nelson.

Mr. John Collins, of Hat Creek, has purchased a half interest in the farm of C. Kostenburg. The sum paid was $1,000.

The government has made no arrangement thus far with the steamboat company for carrying the mails to Sproat's Landing and Kootenay Lake, and it therefore refuses to take them.

More important, however, than anything yet mentioned in the mining interests of Lower Kootenay, is the professional visit of the celebrated geologist, Mr. G. M. Dawson.

The large iron deposits discovered at Spence's Bridge by A. E. Stevens, continue to improve, and the iron ore contains all through from 72 to 66 per cent. iron.

A subscription list was circulated in town on Monday to secure aid for the sufferers in the late fire at Seattle. Some $230 were raised and forwarded to the authorities in that place.

A serious forest fire is raging between Twin Butte and Albert Canyon. President Van Horne's special was delayed on Wednesday by a burning tree which had fallen across the track at that point.

Frank Parsons, of Nicola, who is under treatment in the Inland Hospital for a severe bruise on the leg, received by falling from a horse, is progressing favorably, and his medical attendant says he will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

Justice Walkem in addressing the jury at Clinton said he regretted to notice the stagnation of business of all kinds which seems to prevail this year, and advised those whose hopes of a better future had been so often disappointed and so long deferred, to look forward with courage and renewed energy to brighter prospects which he could not help thinking must come in the wake of the prosperity which has been setting in on both sides of our southern boundary line.

Messrs. Nail & McDougall have sold their gold mine on Eagle Creek to Mr. Davenport, an American gentleman, for it is said, $35,000. Mr. D. proposes to put in development work vigorously, and says he will have a crusher running before fall.

The special of President Van Horne and party arrived west at 5 p. m. Drs. Campbell and Orton met it at Glacier, and on the return discussed with the officials various matters of importance to the smelting Co., including the projected railroad from Nelson to Sproat's Landing. The attitude of the Provincial government towards the C. P. R. in relation to taxation is given as a reason why the building of the new road may be delayed. The side track to the smelter is to be put in on terms satisfactory to the manager, Dr. Campbell.
